File upload and viewer program

This is a webpage that allows you to repeatedly upload files. This webpage displays a link for each file uploaded and has a link to another page that shows a list of all the uploaded files which are stored in a database.

When the view button is clicked the file would be displayed in the browser if the file type is supported by the browser. If the browser does not support the file type it will download the file and the user can then open the file by choosing the proper application.
